

Military Service School Credit

Current practice: All units from military training are entered on a student's record.

Issues:

- Some students have too many units for a SOC agreement.
- Included in academic standing for financial aid.
- Units can only be used for elective credit.
- Included in registration priority.

Proposal:

- After an evaluation of degree requirements, it was determined that a student could use a maximum of 20 units of elective credit to fulfill degree requirements.

Therefore, it is recommended to only post a maximum of 20 units from military service schools for elective credit.

- Student may request any amount of remaining units be posted, if needed.

The four units for health and physical education are not included as "military service schools."
