Dear High School Student,

This letter is to advise you of some important information that may affect your educational plans for 2013-14. Regrettably, due to reductions in funding from the state, which is impacting the number of students community colleges can serve this coming academic year, we are not permitting concurrently enrolled high school students to attend for fall 2013 and spring 2014, with the exception of special partnership programs between certain high schools and the colleges. (Refer to the second page of this letter for a list of special partnership programs.)

Note that, as with last year, there will not be any change to the Accelerated College Program (ACP) classes held on the high school campuses.

If you believe that you are part of a special partnership program with the college, contact the Admissions Office at City, Mesa and Miramar colleges.

• City College (619) 388-3200 • Mesa College (619) 388-2500 • Miramar College (619) 388-7300
(858) 627-2500 (858) 536-4300

This difficult decision is part of our enrollment management plan to ensure that recent high school graduates have access to postsecondary education.

We apologize for this unfortunate situation as a result of diminished state funding. We look forward to seeing you in the future.

Sincerely,

Lynn Ceresino Neault
Vice Chancellor
