A MESSAGE FROM THE CHANCELLOR

2022-2023

Administrative and Governance Handbook

The San Diego Community College District is one of the largest of California’s 73 community college districts. Although each district is the legal entity for funding and employment purposes, the 116 colleges that fall under the oversight of these 73 districts have responsibilities for instruction and services to the 1.8 million students who are enrolled in one or more of California’s public community colleges. A multi-college district such as ours requires clear decision making and accountability structures, both at the District level and at the institutional level. The purpose of this handbook is to acquaint you with these organizational structures and formats.

Everything we do in the San Diego Community College District is derived from our mission:

The mission of the San Diego Community College District is to provide accessible, high-quality, learning experiences, and undergraduate education at an affordable price to meet the educational needs of the San Diego community.

We are proud of the excellence and commitment of everyone who works in our District, whether they are at City College, Mesa College, Miramar College, College of Continuing Education, or in the District Office, which includes the District Service Center and College Police. As the District carries out various planning and decision-making functions, we do so in a combination of administrative procedures and participatory governance consultation. Both processes are complementary to each other and are presented for your review in this handbook.

We also are proud of our effort to celebrate diversity and ensure that the climate of our District is characterized by respect for others in all ways, especially as defined by academic freedom. We also have established and emphasized measures to prevent any forms of discrimination or unprofessional conduct within the workplace and classrooms of our District. We are fortunate in having a governing board, administrators, faculty, and classified professionals who are committed to this philosophy.

Our administrative and governance channels are available to all as we work together to carry out our mission of service. Because we are a large and complex organization, understanding how our own system works will help all individuals understand how to utilize the system effectively in order to accomplish outcomes.

We are pleased to provide the SDCCD’s handbook as a guide to the organization and functions of our administration and governance structures and processes. Please take a moment to review it and please use it as a reference and resource during the year. We will continue to update this handbook each year, so your suggestions for improvement are always encouraged.

The Board of Trustees joins me in wishing you all a productive and enjoyable year.

Sincerely,

Gregory Smith
Acting Chancellor

  General Information ......................................................................................................... 47
San Diego City College, San Diego Mesa College, and San Diego Miramar College are public two-year community colleges administered by the San Diego Community College District. The two-year colleges offer credit programs leading to transfer, employment, and skills improvement. Also under the auspices of the District is San Diego College of Continuing Education division with seven major campuses throughout San Diego. Through these units, the District carries out the charge made by the voters of San Diego in 1972, that the San Diego Community College District provide education for all high school graduates and adults 18 years of age and older in the service region. This charge includes providing adult basic education through sophomore-level college degree programs, with both academic and vocational curricula. Mesa College also offers a bachelor’s degree in Health Information Management.

Community college education in San Diego can be traced to 1914 when the Board of Education of the San Diego City Schools authorized postsecondary classes for the youth of San Diego. Classes opened that fall at San Diego High School with four faculty members and 35 students.

City College was first established in 1914 and was located at San Diego High School. For 25 years, the Junior College program was located at San Diego State University. In 1938, the San Diego Vocational Junior College was established to offer training in technical-vocational skills to post high school students. The following year, the San Diego Evening Junior College was set up to provide college classes in the evening for adults who were unable to attend classes during the day.
In November 1972, the voters approved separating the San Diego Community College District from the San Diego Unified School District. The first election of community college District Trustees was held in November 1973. The year 1976 brought the opening of a unique District campus, the Educational Cultural Complex, dedicated to offering both college and continuing education classes to the multicultural population surrounding its Ocean View Boulevard site. In 1979-80 the administration of the Evening College program was merged with those of the day college programs at San Diego City, San Diego Mesa, and San Diego Miramar colleges.

In 1964, San Diego Mesa College was opened to 1,800 students. Five years later, in 1969, San Diego Miramar College opened on 140 acres in what was then undeveloped land north of the Miramar Naval Air Station, now known as Mira Mesa. Unlike City and Mesa colleges which offered a wide range of general education classes, Miramar College began by concentrating on law enforcement and fire science training. It has since broadened its curriculum to include the general education college courses needed by students in the rapidly growing northern area of the city, as well as new transfer and career-technical programs.

With both college and continuing education programs, as well as extensive workforce training programs, the San Diego Community College District is one of the largest community college districts in California and offers a choice of educational programs unparalleled in the region.
Board of Trustees

The San Diego Community College District is governed by a five-member, locally elected Board of Trustees, and a student Board member. The five trustees are elected in even-numbered years to four-year terms by the voters of San Diego. Trustee candidates first run in district-only elections. The top two vote-getters in each district move on to the general election.

Four students (one from each college) serve a one-year term filling the student trustee position on a rotating basis.

The chancellor, the District’s Chief Executive Officer, is responsible for carrying out policies approved by the Board of Trustees and for providing overall leadership for the District.

Communicating with the Board

The trustees are sincerely interested in the views of students, faculty, classified professionals, administrators, and citizens on matters affecting community college and continuing education in San Diego. Before bringing concerns to the Board, you are encouraged to discuss the matter with the President or Dean of the college campus involved, or the appropriate administrator at the District Office.

If your concerns are not resolved at these levels, you may write to the Board of Trustees at: SDCCD, 3375 Camino del Rio South, San Diego, CA 92108-3883. Copies of your letter will be sent to each Board member. You may also write to individual Board members. These letters are not circulated to the entire Board unless requested by the Board member.

Board Meetings

Board meetings are conducted in public, and include opportunities for individuals to address the Board. Regular meetings of the Board are usually held on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month, beginning at 4 p.m. Special meetings may be called to discuss a limited topic. The Board meeting schedule and current agenda are available on the District website or by contacting the Chancellor/Board Office at (619) 388-6957. An agenda containing a brief description of each item of business is posted at the District Office and on the District’s website (sdccd.edu) 72 hours in advance of regular meetings and 24 hours before special meetings.

The development of the Board agenda includes input and review by the participatory governance groups throughout the District.

Description
The San Diego Community College District is comprised of five major operational units: City College, Mesa College, Miramar College, College of Continuing Education, and the District administrative departments. The District departments that support campus and overall operations, include Development and Entrepreneurship; Finance and Business Services; Communications and Public Relations; Educational Services; Institutional Innovation and Effectiveness; Operations, Enterprise Services, and Facilities (formerly Facilities Management); and People, Culture, and Technology Services (formerly Human Resources).

Functions that are the responsibility of the District administrative departments are intended to provide for efficiency and continuity of services and programs. Compliance and functions that are statutorily required are also the responsibility of the various District operational units. The provision of educational programs, student support services, classified professional and administrator development, direct campus operations, and various ancillary functions are the responsibility of each college.

Following is a delineation of the areas of functional responsibility between the District administrative departments and the colleges within the San Diego Community College District.

It should be understood that all administrative departments and operations in the District Office are under the final authority of the chancellor, and the operation of the colleges is under the authority of the president, who reports to the chancellor. The Board of Trustees is the final level of authority for all functions within the District.

Board Policy and Administrative Procedures

Board of Trustees
The Board of Trustees is responsible for establishing policies that govern all activities related to conducting the business of the District and the colleges. Development and review of policies and procedures are collegial efforts involving a variety of participatory governance groups.

For policies and procedures that affect academic and professional matters, the Board relies primarily on the Academic Senates; on matters defined as within the scope of bargaining interests, the Board follows the requirements of negotiations. For administrative matters, the Board relies primarily on the recommendations of staff with input from various constituencies in the development and review process.

The general public may comment at public Board meetings on any policy consideration before the Board.
Chancellor
The chancellor is the Chief Executive Officer of the District and is responsible for the administration of the District in accordance with the policies established by the Board of Trustees. The execution of all decisions made by the Board of Trustees concerning operations of the District is the responsibility of the chancellor.

Presidents
The president of each college is the institutional Chief Executive Officer. The presidents report to the chancellor. The president is responsible for providing leadership for the day-to-day operation of the college including coordination of all programs, services, and operational matters. The chancellor and presidents provide overall leadership and operational authority on all of the functional areas that follow, listed in alphabetical order.

Bookstore/Cafeteria (ABSO)
District – VC Operations, Enterprise Services, and Facilities
Colleges – Vice President of Administrative Services

The cafeteria and bookstore are managed and operated as a separate business enterprise of the District identified as the Auxiliary Business Services Organization (ABSO). Management and oversight of ABSO is the responsibility of the vice chancellor, Operations, Enterprise Services, and Facilities. All cafeteria and bookstore operations are managed centrally and have indirect consultative relationships with the vice president of Administrative Services at each college. The vice president of Administrative Services is responsible for indirect oversight of the orderly, day-to-day operation of the bookstore and cafeteria on campus.

Budget Development
District – Vice Chancellor, Finance and Business Services
Colleges – Vice President of Administrative Services

The Board of Trustees delegates budget development to the chancellor, under the leadership of the vice chancellor, Finance and Business Services.

While the Board retains its fiduciary responsibility for fiscal oversight, the District Office is responsible for establishing and maintaining the budget, in consultation with the vice presidents of Administrative Services, as well as the college leadership. The annual budget is developed in a collaborative manner. A formula for the distribution of funds to the colleges and other District operations, established through a participatory process, is used in the annual budget development process. This formula has been refined annually with input from the Budget Planning and Development Council, comprised of faculty leaders, classified professionals’ leadership, and administrators from throughout the District. Once funds are distributed, the colleges and District administrative departments are responsible for the expenditure and monitoring of funds within the constraints of local, state, and federal laws. Audits and fiscal controls are the responsibility of the District administration.
College Police

District – Chief of Police; Vice Chancellor, Operations, Enterprise Services, and Facilities

Colleges – Police Lieutenant; Vice President of Administrative Services

Campus safety and parking operations are the overall responsibility of the District administration. The College Police Department is a centralized function reporting to a Chief of Police who reports to the vice chancellor, Operations, Enterprise Services, and Facilities. The Police Department includes P.O.S.T. Certified Police Officers assigned to each college and a central dispatch for 24/7 emergency operations. There is also a police sub-station located on each college campus. The College Police staff at the colleges interface directly with the president, as well as the vice president of Administrative Services, who serves as the college administrative officer responsible for campus safety and parking operations. Resources are managed and deployed centrally to the colleges, as well as the District Office, with 24-hour coverage, seven days a week. The Chief of Police is responsible for the development, maintenance, and execution of emergency response operations for the District. College Police is also responsible for supporting the reporting requirements under the Clery Act.

Communications and Public Relations

District – Director, Communications and Public Relations

Colleges – Public Information Officer

The District has substantial involvement with city, county, state, and federal legislators and agencies along with other representatives that interact with and impact the needs of the District. The director of Communications and Public Relations works directly with the chancellor to build partnerships, guide legislative advocacy, and maintain relations with federal, state, and local agencies and officials, including media relations. Direct assistance is also provided to the colleges to enhance public awareness and ensure consistent branding. Each college has a Public Information Officer who works closely with the president and also maintains liaison with local, city, and county organizations, as well as state and national agencies, to promote public and media relations and activities.

The District Office is responsible for several major publications, and multimedia projects designed to ensure that the community is informed of college operations and initiatives, including an Annual Report, an Economic Impact Report, Propositions S and N Report, Board Reports (monthly), and the WE - With Excellence, a magazine produced three times a year featuring news from throughout the District. District administration also maintains the online content of the District website and SDCCD NewsCenter, a monthly compilation of news and events, as sources of information for both external and internal constituents.
Development and Entrepreneurship

District – Vice Chancellor, Development and Entrepreneurship
Colleges – Director, Development and Entrepreneurship

Coordination of the District’s comprehensive fund development and entrepreneurship programs, including leadership for the District auxiliary organization, resource and fund development, major gifts, donor relations, fundraising, gift giving, grants, community engagement, and related investments in District and college programs. The District administration has primary responsibility for developing contract and fee-based education opportunities in coordination with each college and local industry partners. Grant development is a collaborative responsibility between the colleges and the District administration with resources provided by the District Office. The District administration has primary responsibility for developing and maintaining relationships with industry and a Corporate Council to address workforce needs districtwide.

Facilities Planning and Operations

District – Vice Chancellor, Operations, Enterprise Services, and Facilities
Colleges – Vice President of Administrative Services

The District administration has responsibility for procurement, construction, maintenance, and operations of all District facilities and construction projects. The vice chancellor, Operations, Enterprise Services, and Facilities coordinates contracts, leases, facilities planning, construction, maintenance, and operations. The District uses the consultation process to provide broad participation in the oversight of maintenance and construction of all facilities to ensure campus needs are met. The colleges develop facilities master plans and scheduled maintenance priorities that reflect the educational and student support needs of each institution. These plans form the basis for facilities master planning and facilities development in the District.

The vice president of Administrative Services is responsible for facilities maintenance and operations, along with facilities planning at each college. The vice president of Administrative Services oversees the daily operation of the physical plant of the campus, including maintenance and operations of all facilities, as well as construction projects.

The District administration is responsible for two major construction bond projects (Propositions S and N), including the procurement and construction management of several major facilities throughout the District. The District works closely with the colleges, under the leadership of the president and vice president of Administrative Services, as well as faculty, classified professionals and administrators, in the design, planning, and build-out of each project. The District administration also is responsible for reporting and responding to the Propositions S and N Citizens’ Oversight Committee on all matters pertaining to the bond projects.
Fiscal Oversight

_District – Vice Chancellor, Finance and Business Services_
_Colleges – Vice President of Administrative Services_

The District Office has the primary responsibility for developing and administering all policies and procedures related to the expenditure of funds, internal controls, audit compliance, and fiscal accountability. Once a budget is developed and adopted by the Board of Trustees, the colleges have autonomy in determining campus expenditures in accordance with their Integrated Planning Framework so that they can fulfill their mission within the scope of their budget allocation. The District is responsible for the annual audit and works with the colleges to ensure that revenue and expenditure management conforms to generally accepted accounting practices and statutes. The District Office provides for central coordination of purchasing, accounting, grants and contract management, and accounts payable activities. The District also is responsible for monitoring accounting practices and internal controls throughout the organization. The San Diego Community College District is fiscally independent.

Institutional Research and Planning

_District – Vice Chancellor, Institutional Innovation and Effectiveness; Director, Office of Institutional Effectiveness and Research_
_Colleges – Dean/Associate Dean/Associate Dean of Institutional Effectiveness_

Institutional Research is a districtwide operation that reports to the vice chancellor, Institutional Innovation and Effectiveness. It consists of a central component responsible for districtwide studies and information and maintenance of a complex data mart. The colleges have Research Departments reporting to the Dean of Institutional Effectiveness. The Research Departments have an informal reporting relationship with the District Research Office for training, coordination, research protocols, database management, and support for major projects that are districtwide in scope.

The District Office of Institutional Effectiveness and Research is responsible for annual accountability reporting, enrollment projections, assessment of various student outcomes, state reporting, and developing a culture of evidence for the District. Institutional Research staff throughout the District work collaboratively to identify and provide data and information support to District and college planning efforts, including program review, accreditation, basic skills, student success and equity outcomes, strategic planning, and enrollment management. The Office of Institutional Effectiveness and Research maintains a comprehensive website and the administrators and classified professionals provide support to the data and information needs of the chancellor and Board of Trustees. The department is also responsible for establishing an annual research agenda for the District in collaboration with the colleges.
Instructional Services

District – Vice Chancellor, Educational Services
Colleges – Vice President of Instruction

Curriculum development, as well as provision of the academic program, is the responsibility of the vice presidents of Instruction at the colleges. Coordination and alignment of curriculum, including compliance with Title 5 and policy and procedure development related to instruction is the responsibility of the vice chancellor, Educational Services, in consultation with the colleges' academic leadership and administration. Coordination of grants and contracts, economic development, online education, International Education, and coordination of the Strong Workforce Program in collaboration with the colleges are also the responsibility of the District administration. Oversight of the District’s large online education program, including training, management of the online learning management system, and website development is the responsibility of the District administration in coordination with the colleges' leadership.

Legal Services and Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO)

District – Vice Chancellor, People, Culture, and Technology Services; Director, Legal Services and EEO
Colleges – Site Compliance Officer

The director, Legal Services and EEO, is responsible for legal mandates related to compliance and employment. EEO reporting, monitoring, and training are the responsibility of the District administration. Discrimination complaint investigations not involving sex- or gender-based allegations and formal resolutions are also the responsibility of the District Office in consultation with the Site Compliance officer at each college. The Site Compliance officer is the first responder to complaints and issues on campus, in consultation with the president, and may resolve certain complaints informally, as appropriate. Complaints involving sex- or gender-based misconduct are the responsibility of the Title IX Compliance officer. The director, Legal Services and EEO, also coordinates all of the legal and contractual matters of the District including working with outside counsel on various matters.
People and Culture

District – Vice Chancellor, People, Culture, and Technology Services
Colleges – Vice President of Administrative Services

The Board of Trustees has delegated the responsibility for Human Resources management to the chancellor. Management of human resource operations is the responsibility of the vice chancellor, People, Culture, and Technology Services. The functional responsibilities include negotiations, contract management, hiring procedures and processes, workers’ compensation, employee benefits, employee records, payroll, legal services, Title IX investigations, equal employment opportunity, and risk management.

The vice chancellor, People, Culture, and Technology Services, serves as the lead negotiator for the District, representing the Board of Trustees. Policy and procedure development affecting Human Resources is coordinated through this department. Job classifications and descriptions are developed and maintained by the District Office. The recruitment, screening, and hiring processes are managed and monitored by the District administration. The presidents, chancellor, and Board of Trustees are responsible for final hiring decisions and other personnel actions. Each college, as well as the various District departments, have defined responsibilities for participating in screening and hiring procedures, classified professional and administrator evaluation, and contract administration as it relates to supervisory responsibilities.

Payroll is a collaborative effort between the District Office and the vice presidents of Administrative Services at each college. Legal services are coordinated through the vice chancellor, People, Culture, and Technology Services, in consultation with the chancellor.

Risk Management

District – Vice Chancellor, Finance and Business Services; Risk Manager
Colleges– Vice President of Administrative Services

Risk management, including workers’ compensation claims and legal matters related to District operations is the responsibility of the vice chancellor, Finance and Business Services. The Risk Management office works in consultation with the Chancellor’s Cabinet for all legal matters, as well as with the vice president of Administrative Services at each college for workers’ compensation and liability matters.
Student Services

District – Vice Chancellor, Educational Services

Colleges – Vice President of Student Services

Student Services program development and operations are the responsibility of the vice presidents of Student Services at the colleges. Policy development and oversight, program development, student records maintenance and disposition, state reporting, state and federal compliance and audit, Institutional Research, District Outreach, and Disability Support Programs and Services are the responsibility of the vice chancellor, Educational Services. Policy review and development is coordinated with the colleges' academic and student services leadership.

Administrative computing related to students and services, as well as access to student information is also the responsibility of the vice chancellor, Educational Services, in coordination with the vice presidents of Student Services. Coordination and oversight of the San Diego Promise program is the responsibility of the vice chancellor, Educational Services, in collaboration with the vice presidents of Student Services. Responsibility for Title IX investigations, resolution, and due process. Responsibility for Title IX education, training, and community support is the responsibility of the District Title IX Compliance officer under the leadership of the vice chancellor of Educational Services. Compliance with state and federal laws, including legal matters related to students and records, is the responsibility of the District administration.

Technology Services

District – Vice Chancellor, People, Culture, and Technology Services; Director of Information Technology

Colleges – President

The District Technology Services department is responsible for the District’s administrative computing, network data and voice services, data center operations, web services, desktop computing, and a 24/7 Help Desk. Application support for the District’s library is provided under contract by the vendor of the library system. Support for the instructional labs at the colleges is provided by technicians from Information Technology that report to the leadership at the colleges. Additional instructional technicians are located on the campuses to provide support for instructional computing.

The director of Information Technology reports to the vice chancellor, People, Culture, and Technology Services. Operational responsibility for the Administrative Finance System, the Human Resources System, and the Student Information System resides with the respective vice chancellor for each functional area under the overarching technical responsibility of the District Information Technology department.

Districtwide Integrated Planning

Integrated planning in the District is aligned with the District mission, vision, and values. The planning process is informed by the District’s seven-year strategic plan which establishes the strategic planning goals for the organization. The District strategic plan provides an overarching planning framework for the District. It is developed collaboratively under the leadership of the District Strategic Planning Committee and reflects the planning priorities of the colleges. The District Strategic Planning Committee is comprised of representatives of the colleges and District administrative departments. The District strategic plan undergoes extensive review through the District governance councils, which are comprised of representatives from the colleges, before being approved by the Board of Trustees.

The annual planning cycle is initiated by the Chancellor’s Cabinet under the leadership of the Board of Trustees. The annual planning cycle informs the budget development process and resource allocation districtwide. The process includes ongoing communication and assessment of the governance process, along with the administrative departments, to ensure strong linkages throughout the organization. The assessment process culminates in operational plans and annual goals for each administrative department via the Chancellor’s Cabinet.
Participatory Governance

The Board of Trustees of the San Diego Community College District is committed to collegial governance. In accordance with Title 5, Sections 51023.7, 51023.5, and 53200-53204, and the mission of the San Diego Community College District: To provide accessible, high-quality, learning experiences, and undergraduate education at an affordable price to meet the diverse educational needs of the community; the District shall adopt policies for the appropriate delegation of authority and responsibility to the Academic Senates, and provide students, classified professionals, and administrators with an opportunity to participate in the formulation and development of policies and procedures that have or will have a significant effect on students, faculty, classified professionals, and administrators.

Board Policy 2510 was adopted with the intent of ensuring that faculty, students, classified professionals, and administrators have the right to participate effectively in the governance of the District. The policy also ensures the right of the Academic Senates to assume primary responsibility for making recommendations in the areas of curriculum and academic standards. Board Policy 2510 also does not limit other rights and responsibilities of management and the Board as specifically provided in existing federal and state law and regulations.

Participatory Governance Structure

The participatory governance structure in the District is designed to provide the opportunity for constituent groups to participate in districtwide planning processes. The structure facilitates dialog and input into development and ongoing review of board policies and administrative procedures, as well as operational business processes. To accomplish broad input and dialog, the District has a two tier participatory governance structure comprised of councils, committees, and task forces that have been constructed to formalize these processes.

TIER ONE

- District Governance Council
- Budget Planning and Development Council
- Curriculum and Instructional Council
- Management Services Council
- Student Services Council
- United Student Council

TIER TWO

- District Marketing and Outreach Committee
- Strategic Planning Committee
- District Technology Committee

Note: Ad hoc groups are periodically convened for a specific task or issue until resolved.
The first tier of the districtwide participatory governance structure consists of six Governance Councils. The primary Governance Council is the District Governance Council chaired by the chancellor, and comprised of the chairs of all the other Governance Councils and committees. The Governance Councils are comprised of representatives from each institution, as well as various constituent groups and meet on a regular basis. The Councils are chaired by one of the vice chancellors or the chancellor.

The six Governance Councils include:

- District Governance Council
- Budget Planning and Development Council
- Curriculum and Instructional Council
- Management Services Council
- Student Services Council
- United Student Council

The second tier of the districtwide participatory governance structure consists of three Governance Committees. The Governance Committees are either chaired by a Cabinet member or report to a Cabinet member. The role of the committees is more narrowly focus on matters pertaining to a designated subject. The Governance Committees serve in an advisory role.

The three Governance Committees include:

- District Marketing and Outreach Committee
- District Strategic Planning Committee
- District Technology Committee

In addition to committees, Task Forces are convened on an ad hoc basis to address specific districtwide issues until resolved.

Following is a description of the councils, committees, and task forces:

Governance Council: Representative body of individuals with expertise in a related area, delegated to deliberate and make decisions as well as policy recommendations to the Chancellor’s Cabinet.

Governance Committee: Convened to deliberate, research, coordinate and/or perform a specific function or make recommendations on matters related to a specific area. Committees are organized to be subordinate to the Governance Councils who are the primary governance bodies.

Task Force: Ad hoc groups periodically convened for a specific task or issue until resolved.
Budget Planning and Development Council

Description
The Budget Planning and Development Council shall be entrusted with the task of reviewing and making recommendations to the chancellor on districtwide budget and planning issues. This council shall be comprised of representatives from student leadership, faculty, classified professionals, and administration. The council:

1. Shall limit its charge to budget and fiscal matters only, and excludes personnel and labor related matters, Board approved capital construction, and contractual matters; and
2. Shall establish cooperative working relationships with other college and District standing councils/committees, as is necessary in order that it may carry out its prescribed functions and fulfill its prescribed responsibilities.

Function
1. Review and recommend to the chancellor, districtwide budgetary priorities, as stated in the council’s charge.
2. Meet, as required, and encourage full participation and communications regarding the state and the District’s budget.
3. The council shall have access to District financial information as it relates to districtwide budget planning and development and institutional strategic planning.
4. Advise and participate in a broad districtwide discussion of fiscal issues and receive timely information regarding budgetary matters to include:
   a. Health and welfare cost impacts
   b. Campus and Budget Allocation Models
   c. Districtwide Budget Development
   d. Physical Plant and Instructional Support (equipment and deferred maintenance only) districtwide expenditures
   e. Districtwide program improvements
   f. Receive reports and provide input regarding Districtwide Strategic Planning goals and objectives.
5. Make recommendations on alternative sources of obtaining revenues from external sources.
6. Be informed regarding recommendations for adoption of new districtwide educational programs, development of new centers and their budgetary and planning fiscal impact.
Guiding Principles

The main task of the council is to meet the needs of the students by reviewing and making recommendations, as appropriate, to the chancellor on districtwide fiscal and strategic issues, such that:

1. District and college Educational Master Plans shall provide the underlying guidelines for budget development and institutional planning.
2. Current revenues should finance current expenditures and general contingency reserves.
3. Districtwide budget development shall be a decentralized process, thus allowing maximum input in the budget development of the districtwide community. Participation at the operating unit shows evidence of parties involved.
4. Operating units shall be responsible for preparing each unit’s operational budgets.
5. Budget development and planning should be viewed as a year-round activity.
6. The District’s fiscal planning shall provide for contingencies and reserves as required by law, District policy, and sound fiscal management.

District Governance Council

Description
The District Governance Council (DGC) will serve as the districtwide communication, planning, and review forum on matters pertaining to major issues affecting the District.

Function
The District Governance Council is a standing council comprised of students, faculty, and classified professionals representatives from throughout the District. The council will meet to share information and review matters concerned with educational programs and services. The DGC shall not address matters which are negotiable (SB 160).

Specifically, the council will:
1. Advise the chancellor on the development and effects of policy implementation;
2. Advise the chancellor on matters referred to the council by the respective colleges or other college/District standing councils;
3. Provide a forum for districtwide communication to ensure consistent, continuous reporting of information throughout the District; and
4. Review and make recommendations on major issues, such as the annual District budget, long-range and strategic planning directions, educational and student services plans, and advocacy at the local, state, and national levels.

Responsibilities
1. To review and recommend items pending Board of Trustees consideration and to advise the chancellor relative to those matters contained therein.
2. To receive information through periodic reports on major activities in progress such as development of new processes and services, policy review and development, and budget development.
3. To identify “general issues” for discussion and follow up and/or formal assignment to staff and other committees.

Authority
1. The council may request appropriate college/District personnel to provide other services considered necessary to accomplish the functions and responsibilities described and assigned herein.
2. The council may refer matters to the other college/District standing councils for their review and consideration.
3. The council may refer matters of business back to the originating source for reconsideration and revision. In such cases, the council shall state the specific reasons for which referral is made, together with suggestions for revision, if any.
PARTICIPATORY GOVERNANCE

Relationship
1. The council shall serve in an advisory capacity to the chancellor or his/her designee to promote effective communication and participatory governance throughout the District. The chancellor shall provide a recording secretary to the council.
2. The council shall work cooperatively with other college/District standing councils/committees and such other agencies to carry out its prescribed functions and fulfill its prescribed responsibilities.

Accountability
1. The council is responsible for reviewing with the chancellor various reports or recommendations prior to its final development and submission to the Board of Trustees.
2. The chancellor is responsible for reporting to the Board of Trustees the substance and the nature of the business transacted.

PARTICIPATORY GOVERNANCE

District Strategic Planning Committee

Description

The District Strategic Planning Committee will serve as the districtwide vehicle for initiation and coordinating districtwide strategic planning in order to ensure good communication and effective oversight of planning processes, as well as an effective, complementary balance in planning activities between the District as a whole and the colleges.

Function

The District Strategic Planning Committee is a standing committee composed of individuals who will function as a knowledgeable, collegial planning group that will support and review the outcomes of the institutional planning processes of the colleges; will review the needs of the San Diego community and region in relationship to districtwide planning; and will recommend planning outcomes that should be related to annual budgets, both at the institutional and districtwide levels. The District Strategic Planning Committee will report to the District Governance Council and the Chancellor’s Cabinet.

Specifically, the committee will:

1. Develop a coordinated timeline for institutional planning processes throughout the District;
2. Review the planning outcomes of the colleges planning processes so that common elements, themes, and needs can be identified, reviewed, and addressed;
3. Conduct periodic environmental scans and community needs assessments so that evidence of community/regional needs can be identified, reviewed, and addressed as ongoing components of planning;
4. Review and make available information from external groups and agencies that relates to planning opportunities within the District and colleges;
5. Conduct research and analyze the need for new or revised programs, delivery methods, and services within the District;
6. Sponsor forums or workshops to discuss planning options, in conjunction with other organizations, e.g., the District Governance Council, the Chancellor’s Cabinet, and the Board of Trustees;
7. Develop and disseminate short-term and long-term planning strategies; and
8. Provide recommendations and reports to the District Governance Council and Chancellor’s Cabinet, for further consideration by the Budget Planning and Development Council and the Board of Trustees.

Office of Institutional Research and Planning by invitation.
District Technology Committee

Description

The District Technology Committee under the leadership of the vice chancellor, People, Culture, and Technology Services, serves as the districtwide forum where classified professionals, faculty and administrative representatives throughout the District meet to discuss and review technology matters related to the centralized technology services provided by the Information Technology Services Department in support of the District as a whole and the four colleges.

Functions and Responsibilities

Improve institutional effectiveness by maximizing technology resources and services in support of strategic goals and plans provided by Information Technology Services for the colleges and communicate current and future technology needs. Specifically, the committee shall:

1. Review the District Technology Plan on a regular basis and update it in accordance with the District’s planning cycle.
2. Review, update and recommend operational information technology standards and practices and governance policies and administrative procedures.
3. Research new and innovative technologies to support and improve technology infrastructure and operations, to enhance and improve the capabilities and functionality of the administrative information systems environment, and better serve and support faculty, staff, and students.
4. Continue to improve the information technology infrastructure to provide reliable and high-performance access to network and online services.
5. Routinely review progress on districtwide technology projects and prepare an Information Technology Services annual report.

Authority

The committee shall serve as the conduit by which the District Information Technology Services department is kept informed of how it may provide:

1. Adequate technology infrastructure in support of the District’s administrative computing, network data and voice services, data center operations, web services, desktop computing, and a 24/7 Help Desk.
2. Cooperative working relationships with the four colleges’ Technology Committees, which are comprised of faculty and staff representatives at each college.
3. Support for the instructional labs at the colleges and IT infrastructure throughout the District.

Relationships

The committee, through the chairperson, reports directly to the Chancellor’s Cabinet information technology related issues, improvements and developments as they occur.

Trustee Advisory Council

Description
The educational system within the San Diego Community College District has been developed to serve the needs of the citizens of the community. To improve communication among the Board of Trustees, the educational establishment, and the citizens, the Board established a Trustee Advisory Council (TAC).

Function
The function of the Trustee Advisory Council is advisory, to assist in improving communication between the Board of Trustees and the community, including the educational establishment, and to serve as advocates to the community, the citizens, and decision-makers so as to ensure that the District’s educational programs and services meet the needs of the community and the citizenry to be served.

Its purpose is twofold: (1) to advise the Board on community attitudes, opportunities, and needs; (2) to advise individual Board members on whether the programs are meeting the needs of the citizenry.

Composition
Each voting member of the Board of Trustees may nominate up to seven (7) members to the Trustee Advisory Council. Interested persons, who are not employees of the District, who possess a desire and ability to work with others for the general good and welfare of the community, and are willing to uphold the basic policies and abide by the Council Policies and Bylaws, may be nominated for council membership. All appointments shall be made at a regular or special meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Authority of the Council
The authority of the council may only be exercised as a council and only at such meetings as duly and legally constituted. Individual members, acting in their individual capacities, have no authority to commit the council to any course of action or recommendation. The council acts in a purely counseling and advisory capacity and its findings and recommendations are not binding on the Board.
Term of Office
Council members serve at the discretion of the Board of Trustees. Upon appointment, a council member shall serve until their appointment is rescinded by the Board of Trustees or for the duration of the nominating trustee’s term. Should that trustee be reelected, they may re-nominate any or all Council members that they have appointed.

Frequency of Meetings
The Trustee Advisory Council will meet at least twice each academic year at dates and times to be set by the chancellor. The chancellor may cancel any meetings of the TAC with at least 24 hours notice.
