Interdisciplinary Studies (High School) *Pulled for further discussion

*500 CAREER &amp; COLLEGE READINESS This course is designed to prepare students for academic and professional success by developing behaviors that support this outcome. Students will develop self-discipline and empathy, in addition to communication, financial literacy and study skills. Emphasis is placed on identification and use of working styles, as well as creating and leading self-managed teams. Course work focuses on personal responsibility through self- management, self-awareness, social and physical wellness, while developing connections between behaviors, intentions, and purpose, and the pathway to achieving goals.
