III. OLD BUSINESS

A. Business Programs Update

Ken Fawson stated that Myra Harada and Kendra Jeffcoat will be meeting with Susan Schwarz, the Discipline Dean of Business, to frame the task of discussing the business programs. There are three primary areas to consider: the transfer preparations for the major, nomenclature, and similarities among certificates. The objectives are to facilitate student transfer, student movement among campuses or concurrent enrollment at all campuses.

B. Joint meeting date: March 25, 2004, tentatively 9-11 a.m.

Ken Fawson stated that Student Services suggested that the meetings could be alternated between the morning and afternoons and Room 300 will be used if available. After discussion it was agreed that only afternoons would be feasible, the CIC academic faculty members teach in the mornings. Fawson will communicate that information back to student services.

IV. STANDING REPORTS

A. Curriculum Updating Project

Fawson explained the curriculum integration report included in the handouts. The commitment for the district is to have all of the courses integrated by the end of this year. The six-year review procedure will resume when each course is integrated. Fawson praised the work and contributions of the Vice President’s of Instruction, Curriculum Chairs, Curriculum Writers and Articulation Officers during this integration project. Ninety courses that are part of GE and/or preparation for a major, not including district GE graduation requirements, remain for review. After the meeting Harada and staff will be meeting with CRC chairs to discuss distribution of these courses to the campuses for integration.

E. State Academic Senate
Nothing to report.

F. CIO (Chief Instructional Officers)

Elizabeth Armstrong stated that the regional CIO group under the leadership of Pam Deegan, has decided to prepare agenda items with their positions to be sent with their representatives to consultation.

V. ANNOUNCEMENTS

A. CIC Representation at Student Services Council

Fawson suggested that the Vice Presidents of Instruction rotate attending Student Services Council meetings so that the duty does not fall entirely on one person. It was recommended that each Vice President attend four consecutive meetings for continuity of topics discussed.

Action: The Vice Presidents will work out a schedule for attending Student Services Council meetings and will inform CIC of their schedule.

B. DARS for Equivalent SDSU Courses: http://monet.sdsu.edu:8500/Dars

Harada explained that in evaluating student Education Plans for transfer to SDSU we are interested not only in whether courses the student has taken with us would be applicable to SDSU, but also whether courses they bring from other colleges have SDSU equivalents. State has set up the web-based DARS system, which shows equivalencies between their courses and courses from other colleges and universities. We can now more accurately evaluate transcripts.

C. Fawson stated that a matrix he had distributed seemed to display a disproportionate number of 1 to 49 numbered course outlines and 50 to 99 course outlines as compared to our college level 100 and 200 level courses. Those 1 to 49 numbered course outlines include the skill development or tutoring courses in which only one person may be enrolled. As a district we have focused on our 100 and 200 level courses, which now constitute 85% of our courses. Cabinet has appreciated our efforts at targeting transfer level courses.
