1. National University MOA: Elizabeth Norvell

Elizabeth presented the MOA at City's Academic Senate. Elizabeth explained Articulation Officers would like to meet with the National University representative so they can go over the MOA; Shelly will request a meeting with National University's registrar.

Juliette will be presenting the MOA at the Senate Executive next Monday and posted objection to moving forward with a meeting with National University for a revision to the MOA prior to the completion of Mesa's review process. Mara will take the MOA for a second read at her campus.

2. Articulation Procedures: Shelly Hess

Shelly explained both the articulation procedures and the MOA procedures need to be updated; Articulation Officers agreed. This item will be added to the February DAC agenda.

New Business

3. CSU External Exams memo: Shelly Hess

The credit for external exams memo was sent by the CSU last month, Michelle will send a draft of the external exams chart to the Articulation Officers highlighting the changes to be reviewed prior to the February DAC meeting.

4. Definition between hybrid and fully online courses and impact on articulation: Shelly Hess

For the next CIC meeting there are several foreign language courses included in the summary that are partially online. Shelly asked if it would be ok to add "partially online" to the methods of instruction in the course outline of record. Juliette requested to have that added to the course report instead of the course outline.

5. ENGL 31: Shelly Hess

Articulation Officers discussed the pros and cons of adding ENGL 31 as a "corequisite: concurrent enrollment in" to English 101. Juliette explained that adding ENGL 31 as a corequisite will be problematic for articulation and C-ID purposes. Shelly will do more research on the curricular components of the issue.
