

San Diego Community College District Police Department Policy and Procedures

3.11 CRIMES AGAINST ELDERS & DEPENDENT ADULTS

EFF. 10/01/19

I. PURPOSE

This Department procedure establishes guidelines for responding to, and investigating, cases involving elders and dependent adults.

II. SCOPE

This procedure applies to all members of the Department.

III. BACKGROUND

- A. As stated in Section 368(a) of the Penal Code, “The Legislature finds and declares that crimes against elders and dependent adults are deserving of special consideration and protection, not unlike the special protections provided for minor children, because elders and dependent adults may be confused, on various medications, mentally or physically impaired, or incompetent, and therefore less able to protect themselves, to understand or report criminal conduct, or to testify in court proceedings on their own behalf.”
- B. Elder and dependent adult abuse can be characterized as physical, emotional, sexual, financial, or neglect by self or others.
- C. Law Enforcement officers are mandated reporters of elder and dependent adult abuse. If an officer suspects, observes, is verbally informed, or has any knowledge that causes him or her to believe that elder or dependent adult abuse has occurred, then the officer is required by law (W&I Code 15630(b)(1)) to report the abuse to Aging & Independence Services (A&IS)/formerly known as Adult Protective Services (APS). Failure to meet these reporting standards is a misdemeanor.
- D. In every situation involving suspected or actual abuse, including cases of selfneglect, officers should first call A&IS at (800) 510-2020 to telephonically report the incident. Additionally, the officer should complete a “Report of Suspected Dependant Adult/Elder Abuse” form (SOC 341) and fax it to A&IS by the end of their shift.

IV. DEFINITIONS

- A. Elder - any person 65 years of age or older (368(g) PC).
- B. Dependent adult - any person who is between the ages of 18 and 64, who has physical or mental limitations, which restrict his or her ability to carry out normal activities or to protect his or her rights (368(h) PC). Dependent adults generally have a caretaker responsible for their care and safety; however, having a caretaker does not, by itself, make the person a dependent adult.
- C. Caretaker - any person who has the care, custody, or control of an elder or dependant adult, or who stands in a position of trust with an elder or dependent adult (368(i) PC).
- D. Crimes that occur against elders or dependent adults should use the appropriate 368 PC section as the primary crime case type/charge, followed by any other applicable crime section. For instance, a 245 PC committed against an elder would carry the primary charge of 368(b) (1) PC, with 245 PC as the secondary charge.
- E. The following penal code sections apply specifically to elders and dependent adults in all cases with the exception of financial abuse:
 - 1. 368(b) (1) PC - causes or permits great bodily injury or death (felony);
 - 2. 368(c) PC - causes or permits injury to physical health (not GBI) and/or mental health (misdemeanor);
 - 3. 368(f) PC - false imprisonment by violence, menace, fraud, or deceit (felony); and,
 - 4. 243.25 PC – battery on an elder (wobbler.) This section should be used in conjunction with either 368(b)(1) PC or 368(c) PC, where applicable.
- F. Either Section 368(b) (1) or 368(c) may be applicable to neglect by others in cases where a responsible person refuses, or fails to fulfill, care-taking obligations. Some examples of this include a denial of food or medical attention, a lack of appropriate shelter, clothing, and personal needs (such as bathing and sanitation), or the withholding of necessary medications or assistance. Neglect can be intentional or unintentional.
- G. These sections also apply to mental suffering (psychological and/or emotional abuse) which is directed at an elder or dependent adult by way of threatening, humiliating, intimidating, or isolating behaviors or statements.

H. Financial abuse occurs when the victim's funds or resources are taken or exploited. This includes stealing or misusing the victim's money, checks, credit, bank account, property, or real estate. Also included in this section are various scams where seniors are targeted, such as lottery scams, telephone solicitations, and home improvement scams. The following Penal Code sections apply specifically to elders and dependent adults in regards to theft and other types of financial abuse:

1. 368(d) PC - Non-Caretaker theft or embezzlement, more than $950.00 is a felony; less than $950.00 is a misdemeanor.
2. 368(e) PC - Caretaker theft or embezzlement, more than $950.00 is a felony; less than $950.00 is a misdemeanor.

I. Self-neglect is the failure of an elder or dependent adult to adequately take care of him or herself and meet the demands of daily living. (i.e., eating, paying bills, meeting personal hygiene needs, and taking medications.)

V. PROCEDURES

- A. Patrol officers are responsible for the initial investigation of all elder/dependent adult abuse cases.
- B. In situations where an officer determines that an elder or dependent adult abuse crime has been committed, suspected, or alleged, the officer should do the following:
1. Complete a crime report listing the appropriate 368 PC section and assign a case number to it. To assist in the completion of this task, officers should utilize the Elder/Dependent Adult template available to them in the Department's G-Drive under ARJIS and Report Templates for RIMS.
 2. When interviewing the victim, try to ascertain their state of mind and level of competency, and document their responses in the report. Be mindful to document any reliance on others in answering specific questions about the abuse.
 3. Determine who is responsible for the care of the victim. Get as much information as possible since caretakers can be suspects in the abuse.
 4. Interview all possible witnesses.
 5. Collect and impound any relevant documents or evidence, such as checks, bank records, and credit card statements. Make copies of all documents and forward them to the SDPD Elder Abuse Unit.

6. Photos are essential and must be taken in cases involving neglect and physical abuse.
 7. Telephone A&IS at (800) 510-2020 as soon as possible to verbally report the abuse. Complete and fax the mandatory SOC 341 form documenting the suspected or actual abuse. The fax number can be obtained from A&IS when the telephone report is made and will vary depending on location.
 8. Due to time constraints, in-custody cases must be completed and submitted by the end of the shift. Copies of any photo disks should be delivered to the SDPD Elder Abuse Unit.
 9. Notify the SDPD Elder Abuse Unit on any in-custody arrest, prior to booking the suspect.
- C. In situations where a crime has not occurred, or when it cannot be determined that one has actually occurred, the officer should do the following:
1. Primary consideration should be given to the safety and security of the elder/dependent adult. If the victim is in need of emergency or immediate medical treatment, arrange for medical transport.
 2. If the victim is gravely disabled, unable to care for him/herself, and/or is a danger to him/herself, and no responsible caregiver is present, contact A&IS/APS immediately at (800) 510-2020. The duty Social Worker will be contacted to assist with an emergency placement of the elder/dependent adult.
 3. Complete and fax the mandatory SOC 341 form documenting the suspected or actual abuse. An ARJIS-9 is no longer required for an elder abuse incident where no crime has occurred. A&IS and the SDPD Elder Abuse Unit will follow up on the SOC 341 and take the appropriate actions.
- D. Call-Outs
1. The SDPD Elder Abuse Unit should be notified regarding all incidents involving an in-custody arrest, severe neglect cases or when the victim sustains a life threatening injury.
 2. The Elder Abuse Unit is staffed Monday through Friday from 0630 hours to 1700 hours. For questions, field units can contact members of the Unit at (619) 446-1070. After-hours contact can be made through the SDPD's Watch Commander's Office.
