The District's Response to Reported Incidents

If you report to the school and the accused individual is affiliated with the school, the District's Title IX Coordinator will determine the appropriate response, which may include informal options, such as mediation or facilitated dialogue, or formal options, which include an investigation conducted in accordance with District policies and procedures*. Violent behavior will not be mediated. Where it is determined that a violation of school policy occurred through the formal complaint process, the District will impose appropriate sanctions, up to and including, expulsion of students and termination of employees. In addition, the Title IX Coordinator may offer supportive measures, regardless of whether a formal complaint is submitted. Retaliation against anyone making a report or participating in the school's resolution process is prohibited.

*A full list of these policies and procedures are available for review on the Title IX website at <https://www.sdccd.edu/titleix>.

Intimate Partner Violence

The San Diego Community College District is committed to providing a safe and equitable learning and working environment for all students and employees, free from sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking, and any other sex-based or gender-based misconduct.

Intimate partner violence (dating violence and domestic violence) may violate the Student Code of Conduct or Human Resources policies. When based on the sex or gender of the victim, it may also violate the District policies on discrimination and harassment.

Any incident of intimate partner violence may be reported directly to the school's Title IX Coordinator. The Title IX Coordinator can assist the victim by identifying sources of support and advocacy, reporting to the police, if that is desired, navigating classes or work at the District, providing information about protective measures, and overseeing a school resolution process.

What To Do if you're a victim...

If you're a victim of intimate partner violence, you are not alone. Campus officials are available to assist.

The following are steps you can take:

- 1. IF YOU ARE UNSAFE, CHANGE LOCATIONS AND SEEK ASSISTANCE.
In an emergency, call 9-1-1 for an immediate police response.
- 2. IF YOU HAVE INJURIES FROM PHYSICAL ASSAULT OR UNWANTED SEXUAL ACTIVITY, PLEASE CONSIDER GETTING MEDICAL ATTENTION.
- 3. CONSIDER CONTACTING FREE, CONFIDENTIAL SUPPORTIVE RESOURCES FOR SUPPORT AND GUIDANCE.
- 4. CONSIDER REPORTING THE INCIDENT TO LAW ENFORCEMENT OR THE DISTRICT'S TITLE IX COORDINATOR, OR BOTH.
- 5. PRESERVE EVIDENCE.
Reporting these incidents will initiate steps to help protect you & the campus community however, non-reporting is also an option.
Evidence can be important in obtaining a protective order, or in any current or future police action.
Do not bathe, douche, or brush your teeth. Do not wash your clothing, linens, or the area where the assault occurred.
Preserve text messages, voicemail messages, photos and any other physical evidence.
- 6. SEEK ACCOMMODATIONS FOR WORK OR SCHOOL AS NECESSARY.

SAFETY PLANNING

A safety plan can help you lower your risk of being hurt by an abuser, strategize the safest way to respond to intimate partner violence, and help you safely prepare to leave a dangerous or unhealthy relationship. For help with risk assessment and safety planning, the following on-campus and off-campus resources are confidential and able to support students and employees.

On-Campus: Campus Victim Advocate: 619.541.5970

Off-Campus: The Center for Community Solutions: 888.385.4637

PROTECTIVE ORDERS

A domestic violence restraining order is a court order that helps protect people from abuse or threats of abuse from someone with whom they have an intimate or dating close relationship with. You can ask for a domestic violence restraining order if a person has abused (or threatened to abuse) you AND you have a close relationship with that person, such as you are married or registered domestic partners, divorced or separated, dating, or used to date, living together or used to live together (more than roommates), or are parents together of a child.

Civil harassment restraining orders and workplace violence restraining orders are also available. For complete info about these protective orders and a description of each, see:

www.courts.ca.gov/selfhelp-domesticviolence.htm

LAW ENFORCEMENT

If you would like assistance reporting an incident to law enforcement, the Title IX Coordinator can assist you.

What is Intimate Partner Violence?

Generally, intimate partner violence is defined as abuse or threats of abuse when the person being abused and the abuser are or have been in an intimate relationship (married or domestic partners, are dating or used to date, live or lived together, or have a child together). Abuse may be threats to harm, sexual assault, other physical assault, or property damage. Domestic violence often is a pattern of abusive behavior intended to control someone, and may include emotional, verbal, and psychological abuse.

The following terms are defined one way by the school, and another way under the law. For definitions under the California Penal Code, please refer to the current Safe & Sound Brochure available at:

<https://www.sdccd.edu/docs/police/currentsafeandsound.pdf>

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE: A crime or violence committed by a current or former spouse or intimate partner of the victim, a person with whom the victim shares a child in common, a person who is cohabitating with or has cohabitated with the victim as a spouse or intimate partner, a person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim under the domestic or family violence laws of California, and/or by any other person against an adult or youth victim who is protected from that person's acts under the domestic or family violence laws of California.

DATING VIOLENCE: Violence against a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim. The existence of a relationship will be determined based on a consideration of the following factors: the length of the relationship, the type of relationship, and the frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship.
