Greetings City Colleagues,

I am delighted to introduce John Boyce as our new Occupational, Environmental Health and Safety Coordinator. John brings a wealth of Occupational, Environmental Health Safety experience from his work with SDG&E, Honeywell, and NASA. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Industrial Engineering Technology from Southern Illinois University, and a Master of Business Administration degree from Pepperdine University. John likes spending his free time at the beach or camping with his wife and four children. John's office is located at T-160.

I am pleased to announce that Ginger Broussard has been promoted to College Events and Operations Coordinator. Ginger joined City as a NANCE September 2021, and has extensive experience in property management and client services management. Ginger is a first generation college graduate, having completed her associates degree at Grossmont College. Born and raised in San Diego, Ginger enjoys spending time with her three kids, attending Padres games and traveling to Colima to visit with family.
