SUMMER

London, England

June 8-30, 2019*

SAN DIEGO
MESA COLLEGE

SUMMER

Immerse yourself in London's world of fashion and theatre. Students may study Fashion or Drama Arts or both. The program consists of field visits throughout London and online and in-class meetings at San Diego Mesa College (before and after London). Reach out to program contact for confirmed dates.

Fashion students will spend their time in the field visiting museums such as the Victorian and Albert and the Fashion and Textile Museum. They will experience retailers such as Harrods, Liberty of London, and Topshop and explore fashion through meetings with designers, manufacturers, fashion schools, markets, and theatre costume shops.

Dramatic arts will visit sites that devised some of the greatest theatre in the world. They will see William Shakespeare's birthplace, tour backstage at the Old Globe, the National Theatre, and enjoy workshops lead by seasoned performers. While visiting museums, civic buildings and monuments, students will learn first-hand the historical and cultural relevance inherent to classical drama and more. Students will delve into the process of theatre production by experiencing live performance and make this timeless city a living classroom.

Barcelona, Spain

June 23-July 26, 2019*

SAN DIEGO
MIRAMAR
COLLEGE

Please note: Program consists of a combination of coursework at Miramar College (June 4-June 22) and coursework in Barcelona (June 23-July 6).

Explore Barcelona, Spain, through the author Roberto Bolaño. The course focuses on the works of Latin America's greatest author of the past twenty years. As a long-time resident of Blanes, Spain (a town just outside Barcelona) Bolaño's work focuses on the mundane and abstract of Barcelona life. This ranges from the various museums to the beloved soccer team. The class will explore both Bolaño's literature and argumentative analysis found in every English 205 class. Texts for analysis include The Savage Detectives, The Return, and Last Evenings on Earth. The works examine the life as a Latin-American immigrant living in Spain and the historical tension between World War II fascism and Franco's Spain for residents in Barcelona.

Courses offered:

English 205 Critical Thinking/
Intermediate Composition 3.0 units

Requirements: Completion of English 101 with a grade of C or better. A non-refundable $100 registration fee. Standard SDCCD study abroad eligibility requirements apply.

Program fee: Contact Adrian Arancibia for up-to-date pricing.
